WE NOMINATE

Larom Beckley Munson, a refreshing new kind of 20th Century entrepreneur, who at age 28 is succeeding in bringing this venerable center of learning into a every-day contact with what he terms "living American art." Convinced that art can't be divorced from reality, and deeply perturbed that the "difficulties" presented by modern artists have been overdramatized to the point where many apparently believe art is something reserved for the few, Munson is the driving force behind the Second Annual Princeton Merchants' Exhibition which over the next two weeks will feature 30 original paintings and drawings (valued in excess of $15,000) in as many shop and office-windows along Nassau and Witherspoon Streets and Palmer Square West.

This unique display, coinciding with Princeton's commencement-reunion period and jointly sponsored as a public service by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and this newspaper, traces its origins back to a chance conversation in 1955. Munson, now in his fifth year as director of The Little Gallery, expressed the opinion that "busy people, with no time to visit galleries or museums, can gain a better understanding of contemporary art if they are brought face-to-face with outstanding works as they enter a grocery store, grab a cup of coffee or go about buying a pair of shoes for the kids." The idea caught hold. New York galleries enthusiastically agreed to loan paintings and Princeton merchants made display-space available.

In its basic aspects the non-profit Merchants' show is an extension of Munson's philosophy of giving Princetonians a many-sided picture of modern art. Since graduating from Yale with the Class of 1951 and taking over the Gallery his father established here as a "branch-shop" in the late 1930's, he has exhibited the works of more than 50 artists, ranging from local artists giving their initial one-man shows to such headliners as George Grosz, Ben Shahn or Leonard Berman. And the emphasis at all turns, whether calling attention to the extreme landscapes of Paul Hollister or reviving John Held's all-but-forgotten illustrations, has been on broadening popular interest in art.

The first to admit that art "is my passion and my business," Munson, an Army veteran and formerly co-holder of several world's swimming records, has repeatedly demonstrated his ingenuity as an exhibitor and dealer. Just a year ago he opened a division of The Little Gallery at Chatham, Mass., and there now successfully exhibits in the loft of a large converted barn. Last summer, following a winter exhibition on Palmer Square, he persuaded artist Lee Townsend, a remarkable portrayer of horses and "race track life" to try his luck at the Saratoga Races. During the meeting and the famous yearling sales, he and Townsend used box-stalls as back-drops for the latter's paintings, slept contentedly in the stable and reported the undertaking a marked success.

For bringing into being—in the absence of any commensurate facilities—a "nerve-center for art in Princeton;" for knowing that "tomorrow's exhibition will be even better than today's" and will possibly establish promising artists; for helping launch an unusual educational venture with community-wide implications; he is Town Topics' nominee for

SHIFT TO THE EAST

Research Park Okayed. Attention focused on the town's east side this week as the Township Committee, meeting Tuesday night in special closed session with the Planning Board, passed a zoning ordinance on first reading that will permit quick establishment of Princeton Research Park. The meeting was a lengthy one, reportedly featuring much ironing-out of wrinkled "technical differences," but, above all, the multi-million dollar project was okayed.

According to present plans, a public hearing on the campus-style research center for North Harrison Street will be conducted the night of June 11, at the Township Committee's regular June session. Presuming there are no serious objections, and the public seemed heartily in favor of the park this week (see Question of the Week, page 13), the 66-acre tract will feel the impact of the shovel before next month.

The combined meeting of Township Committee and Planning Board came as somewhat of a surprise to observers, since it was believed the latter group would consider the matter, then refer it back to the Committee for action, perhaps next week. Apparently, the Committee—anxious to wrap up the park for Princeton—realized it could not give the June 1 public hearing ample advertising time unless it polished off the first reading this week—so the joint get-together was held and park planners, pressing for swift progress were satisfied.

Subdivision Race On. Also on Princeton's east side, along North Harrison Street, subdividers were busy subdividing this week in anticipation of a greater influx of residents in that area. There were a few minor hitches in the contractors' plans, but nothing serious enough to keep them from putting their wares on the market by fall.

A step ahead of the others, Joseph Karp, developer of Princeton Knolls, filed his plans with the Mercer County Clerk and submitted his building bond, which the Borough approved. Mr. Karp's Majestic Construction Co., of South Orange, has cleared land for its homes in the $23,000-plus class at Hamilton Avenue and will start work as soon as its blueprints reflect no "look-alikes," something they haven't done to date.

Further north, on both sides of Harrison between Ewing and Franklin, Nu-Level Homes of North Plainfield has leveled its 32-lot area (for 14 Borough houses and 18 Township houses) and erected a model home in the Township. Dwellings priced around $20,000 will begin going up on the Township property soon and in the Borough when a bond has been submitted and settlement for utilities concluded.

Princeton Construction Co.'s plans for a 17-home project, in the $30,000-plus category, lagged behind the other two subdivisions this week, despite the fact it received earliest blessing by the Planning Board. To be located off Nassau Street, not far from the Majestic development, this subdivision—on the so-called "Snow property"—was delayed indefinitely pending the company's posting of a $32,000 bond to cover improvements.

STRAWS IN THE WIND

Things to Come. This was a week of happenings in Princeton that indicated major developments in the near or reasonably near future. Among the most significant were the following:

- Trustees of Princeton Country Day School advised parents that, instead of enlarging PCD on its present site, there was a totally unexpected chance that the school might have to move from its quarter-century location (for details, see Topics of the Town, page 3).
- Newly elected officers of the Princeton Community Players (see story, page 9) admitted they will move from Avalon to the centrally-located basement of McCarter Theatre come fall, if the price is right (negotiations appear favorable) and the Triangle Club doesn't demand full occupancy of the space during October and November.
- Concerned over the ever-increasing growth of tax-exempt institutional buildings in tax-conscious Princeton Borough, the Board of Adjustment this week invoked a never-used-before zoning ordinance proviso, ordering Westminster Choir College to guarantee payment for municipal services—in lieu of taxes—for the school's new $450,000 dormitory, to be built this summer. Thus, the Borough exposed an "ace" with which it may trump future institutional construction.

● Borough Council likely will decide at its June meeting when to build the controversial Bayard Lane-John Street link artery, though it appears doubtful the project will be launched in 1956. The 'Y' has set a 50-foot right-of-way limit; Borough leaders have concluded that a 30 or 32-foot link will be fine; the State Highway Department has helped figure out a logical "teardrop" transition from the link street into Bayard; the State has agreed to give financial aid and Princeton has shown its need for the job. However, Council says the new street should not be there to be in the way and get all dirty when Ayrton is demolished and the new 'Y' structure put in its place.

ISSUES OF THE WEEK

A Colloquial Meaning? The running battle between spirited citizen William Clark and the Princeton Water Company ran a bit farther last week, and it now seems the Public Utilities Commission must step in as referee and determine the winner. After a final public hearing in Newark, the PUC took the spring-long squabble under advisement, suggesting that its decision may not be reached until mid-summer.

Representatives of the water company wound up their argument for a proposed rate hike by underscoring the necessity for expansion and by stating that the increase will average about 40%. Mr. Clark, a former federal judge, countered by claiming the company's advertised figures would amount to a jump of better than 50%.

At the hearing, Mr. Clark moved that the company's application be denied and was granted permission to file a memorandum detailing his objection by June 20. Though a resident of the Township, Mr. Clark contended that the company has been supplying water illegally to the Township for years. His suggestion: "The Township ought to set up its own company, private or municipal."

Noting that he has examined the water company's certificate of incorporation, filed in 1881, the ex-judge said it states that the corporation was formed "for the purpose of supplying water to the Borough of Princeton or town of Princeton." That meant 'town' in the colloquial sense," he commented, "and certainly did not mean the Township."

Time for a Change? Road dangers and their cures were subjects of much conversation this week in both Borough and Township, where bad accidents have occurred with alarming consistency since the start of the year.

Prompted by the Route 206 accident that resulted in the death of Oscar S. Stillwell, and more determined following last Saturday's fatality on the same highway (see details, page 4), residents once again wrote the Township Committee requesting readjusted speeds and new signs along Somerville Road, called "the death trap" by a few.

Just as it did several years ago, after the State Highway Department doubled speeds on Route 206, the Committee contacted the department and asked for surveys to see if present speeds and signs meet safety requirements. Just as it did several years ago, the department agreed to conduct the surveys.

Township residents were aroused by the doubled speeds because a heavy truck shot off the road and across a lawn, where children might have been waiting for a school bus. Highway experts argued that the truck incident was an exception, that the department's speed standards are established by 85% of the drivers who use a given road and go a certain speed whether there are signs or not.

The survey teams will be here in a week or two, but Township leaders were sure that the recent rash of Route 206 accidents would not prove abnormal — and that 85% of the drivers will still be moving right along.

In the Borough, the hazard problem was a simpler one. A city survey of street corners revealed that 33 residents have hedges, bushes or brush that make for a dangerous traffic situation. They advised by postcards that their shrubbery cannot grow within 10 feet of a roadway or within 25 feet of an intersection to a height of more than 2½ feet.

PERSONALITIES

John F. Becker, who earned rave reviews this week (page 5) for his direction of "The Crucible" for the Community Players, left immediately for a new theatrical challenge in Omaha, where he will stage a two-day religious pageant for the Congregational Church. It will be similar to his productions which in 1954 drew more than 100,000 into Chicago's Soldiers Field and last year packed Hollywood Bowl.

Raymond A. Bowers, known primarily for his building of Princeton homes and large structures, this week received well-deserved credit for his equally important building of young men as the board of directors of the YMCA re-elected him its president for 1956-57.

Susan Rowles, thirteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Rowles, 55 Spruce Street, was the cause of a 13-state teletype alarm Monday when she temporarily disappeared from the Princeton scene. Twelve hours later, the Witherspoon School eighth grader turned up safe and sound with relatives in Virginia.

Zig Emery, in his third season as Hun School baseball coach, demonstrated his diamond know-how by piloting his varsity nine through a 15-game undefeated campaign, something none of his predecessors had managed to accomplish in the 40-year history of the school. For details of the club's stirring as well as fitting finish, see Sports in Princeton.

ONE OF THIRTY: "Chatham Square under the El" is the title of this painting by Reginald Marsh, one of 30 by a number of well-known modern artists which will go on display for two weeks beginning Saturday. To be hung in store windows in the heart of the town's business section, the paintings will seek to broaden Princetonians' acquaintance with art while they go about their every-day activities. The second annual Princeton Merchants' Exhibition is sponsored jointly by the Princeton Junior Chamber of Commerce and TOWN TOPICS.

ROUNDUP

The second annual Princeton Merchants Art Exhibition, with 30 masterful paintings ready to please the eye (s), will open Saturday and continue until June 13, and a casual stroll down Nassau and Witherspoon Streets and the square will do the trick (free of charge) . . . There were many new faces in the spine-tingling memorial Day parade this year, especially youthful additions to the Midget League marching corps, but the same old reason for the parade caused most of the quickened sidewalk heartbeats . . . Don't forget the Hospital Fete this Saturday at Westminster Choir College, a wonderful benefit event.

Many Princetonians, particularly those afflicted, speculated that mumps reached epidemic proportions here this spring, but school health officials said the outbreak was "just average" and noted that chicken pox, per usual, was more popular . . . Helicopters took off from Princeton Airport last week, transporting executive personnel over the picket lines to a strike-bound plant — "so they could feed the animals," the report had it . . . Princeton High's perennially potent track team will send 11 athletes to the state championships this week end and will have trouble defending its long-held title, despite two New Jersey title-holders. (see Sports in Princeton).

M. E. La Vake, jeweler, the Nassau Street business that has been on Princeton's main drag under the same name longer than any other business establishment, was sold this week (see details, page 4) . . . The Post Office observed that vacation time will soon be with us and that its staff would like to be notified soon if people expect their mail to be forwarded while they're away . . . Flamenco is not a fiery food, a migrating bird or a new kind of gasoline, but it is coming to Princeton (if you're dubious, read the full account on page 8) . . . And, if you are one of numerous citizens interested in knowing if the John-Witherspoon Renewal Area is blighted within the purview of federal and state laws, Borough Housing Authority officials promise to answer the question next week when they release a fifth article in their current series on Princeton's redevelopment program.

Topics of the Town

Town and Gown? As a direct result of Princeton University's recently-announced plans for expansion in an easterly direction, Princeton Country Day School is confronted with the prospect that it may be forced to find a new location. Word to this effect went this week to parents of the 166 boys in the school in a letter from James Carey, chairman of the board of trustees.

Mr. Carey reported that the University has informed Country Day of its intentions to build additional faculty housing on three and a half acres of land at the corner of Broadmead and Western Way. This site has for the past 26 years been used by the school for its extensive soccer, football and baseball programs.

The letter to the parents makes it clear that the school itself owns the land on which it was built in 1930, and that no question of its ability to remain there exists. However, the school's trustees are seriously concerned over the prospect of retaining the present site if it is to be surrounded by other buildings and if no playing area is to be within walking distance.

A survey of potential sites has been undertaken, Mr. Carey announced in the letter, commenting that the University's expansion plans "are considered sufficiently short-range so that our own decision cannot be long delayed." Conferences between university officials and the school resulted in refusal on the part of the former to permit Country Day to purchase the playing fields or to obtain a long-term lease for their use, the letter reported.

Some two months ago, the school had reached a decision to build another wing containing additional classroom, locker room and cafeteria facilities. Such a move, scheduled for completion by September, would have permitted a modest enrollment increase, but was planned primarily to meet the pressing need for additional space of the present student body.

In view of the major problem posed by the University's expansion program, the school has postponed its own building plans at least until fall. However, the need for additional cafeteria space is of such importance that expansion of that department will be undertaken with the end of the school year next week.

Mr. Carey's letter to the parents sums up the dilemma confronting the trustees with the comment that "the University has said, in effect: There is every likelihood that, in a few years' time, Princeton Country Day School will be surrounded by University-owned buildings without access to playing fields within walking distance. In the light of this strong possibility, you would do well to consider whether your wisest course is to expand the school building on the present site or to move to a new location."

Founded in 1924 in the building still standing at 10 Bayard Lane, the school had an original enrollment of 27. It moved six years later to its present Broadmead location, with the existing building expanded by a gymnasium and a wing during the post-war decade.

Ballet Questions

If you are considering ballet for yourself or your child for the Fall of 1956, some of the following questions are no doubt running through your mind.

- What Age?
- Qualifications of the Teacher?
- Recitels?
- Other Kinds of Dance?
- Toe Shoes? When? Why?
- Purpose of Study? Social Contacts? Health and Beauty? Art?

If you are inquiring of various dance schools concerning these important aspects of dance, I should be glad to see you personally and tell you how we feel about them at APARRI School of Dance and how we teach accordingly. Please feel free to telephone me mornings (early please!) in order to make an appointment.

I shall be home all through June.

Death Toll Mounts. Princeton's attention was focused on the tragic aspects of a mounting highway death toll this week following the fifth traffic fatality of 1956 in the Princetnn area. Peter H. Gulick, 23, of 1082 Princeton-Kingston Road, became the latest victim, killed early Saturday morning when an auto in which he was a passenger ran off Route 206 and crashed into two poles.

Both the victim and John A. Esche, Princeton - Hightstown Road, the driver, were thrown from the car in the accident near Princeton Airport, just north of the Princeton Township line in Montgomery Township. Young Gulick was pronounced dead of head injuries at Princeton Hospital while the driver was treated for shock and released.

According to State Police, who investigated the auto death, Mr. Esche, a mail carrier here, told them he fell asleep at the wheel. Mr. Gulick, returning from Somerville with the driver after taking their dates home, was asleep in the back seat when the fatal mishap occurred.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand L. Gulick Jr., the accident victim was employed in the engineering section of the New Jersey Turnpike Authority. He graduated from Princeton High School in 1951 and later attended Alfred University. He was a member of the Princeton Community Players, the Kingston Volunteer Fire Company, the Future Farmers of America and the Citizens Rifle and Revolver Club of New Jersey.

Young Gulick's father, a Princeton real estate and insurance broker, is a former Mercer County Freeholder and a former member of the Princeton Township Committee.

In addition to his parents, Mr. Gulick is survived by a sister, Miss Phebe C. Gulick of Princeton, and his maternal grandfather, E. E. Rhodes of Newark.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Gulick home, with the Rev. Henry W. Heaps of Kingston Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment in Kingston Cemetery was directed by the Kimble Funeral Home.

End of Era. The oldest Princeton firm carrying on business in its founder's name, M. E. LaVake, Jeweler, quietly passed from the Princeton scene this week with its sale to Reid's Jeweler's, Trenton, which for the foreseeable future will continue to operate the 54 Nassau Street store under the familiar LaVake name

The sale, effective with the opening of business this Friday terminated a remarkable family and business continuity, dating back to the firm's establishment in 1877 and since maintained by three generations of LaVakes. For the past six years it had been directed by Myron E. LaVake 3d, North Harrison Street, a grandson of the founder.

Known to thousands of Princeton University undergraduates as "Tiffany" LaVake's, the shop over the space of eight decades has operated within a stone's skip of its original site on Nassau Street. It started out alongside the old Nassau Tavern, moved to what was once 72 Nassau Street (next to present-day Hinkson's) and finally shifted to the P.M.L building.

A part of founder Thomas LaVake's routine, following the Philadelphia Centennial Exhibition of 1876, was a weekly tour of Princeton homes to wind and regulate old-fashioned eight-day clocks, the stand-bys of pre-commuter years.

Thomas' son, Myron, continued these same weekly rounds during his lifetime, but the route was dropped with his death in 1933 when electric timepieces began to supplant the key-and-chain winders of yesteryear.

The new proprietors, operating since 1924 one of New Jersey's largest jewelry and gift establishments at 25 East State Street, Trenton, will be represented in Princeton by Samuel Kind, a member of the Trenton firm.

Five Graduations Listed. Seniors will participate in the closing ceremonies of five educational institutions during the coming week, with Westminster Choir College graduating on Friday; Princeton Country Day School on Monday; and Miss Fine's School and the Princeton Theological Seminary on Tuesday.

The Choir College will graduate 42 students with Bachelor of Music degrees and 22 with Masters degrees in a ceremony at 10:30 a.m. in Princeton University Chapel. The exercises will climax the college's Alumni Week, which opened on Tuesday.

Dr. Andrew Mutch, pastor emeritus of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church, will speak at the graduation. Residents of the Princeton area who will receive degrees include Miss Carolyn Baumgartner, Ramon Kyser, Donald Mathis, Miss Dorothy Rahilly, Richard Raub, Donald Rogers, Mrs. Jane Smith and Mrs. Jeannette Thomson.

Among the features of alumni week are a presentation of Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" by the school Dramatics Department and a concert by the Graduate Choir, conducted by Warren Martin, both of which will be held on Thursday. At a banquet Thursday evening, Mrs. Sarah Couvreur will be honored as she retires after 18 years as an instructor in French.

Seven Area Boys Hun Graduates. Seven students from the Princeton area will be among the 30 seniors who will be graduated from Hun School in their commencement exercises at 11 a.m. Saturday on the school grounds.

John P. Poe, chairman of the school's Board of Trustees and president of the First National Bank of Princeton, will present diplomas and awards. George Strewbridge, a public relations executive and trustee of the school, will deliver the commencement address.

Area graduates include Robert M. Cox, Stephen R. Griffing, Willis J. Pierre, Anthony D. Pirone

"PHOENIX SIDESHOW" STARS: Cornelia Otis Skinner, actress-monologist, and magician Fred Keating will be co-starred in a weekend performance June 7 and 9 at McCarter Theatre. Originally staged at New York's off-Broadway Phoenix Theatre by Norris Houghton '31, their well-received show is being brought here in conjunction with 1931's 25th reunion and other alumni activities.

COMMUNITY PLAYERS

This department will go down the line with the assertion that last weekend's concert reading of "The Crucible" is the most impressive piece of work the Community Players have ever done.

Granted that Arthur Miller's drama of the Salem witchhunts is an immensely powerful play, the Players still supplied on their own the factors which made the performance so stirring.

The cast, from top to bottom, was probably the strongest the Players have assembled. Considering the possible limitations of a large-cast reading and the short time available to him for rehearsal, John Becker's imaginative direction made a triumph of "The Crucible."

Occasional slow-downs and a certain amount of understandable awkwardness in getting to and from the reading stands were about the only detracting trifles. Otherwise, the reading offered much more than you could have expected.

It's difficult to separate the high points in individual performances. Carlotta Sherwood as the witch-crying Abigail was, of course, marvelous. But many other performances gave as much to the total.

Byron Keene, Lorin Zissman and Betty Fussel brought to life extremely well the three major statements about human integrity in the face of persecution. Vincent de Baun was shiveringly strong as the inquisitor.

There were lots of other gems, among them the characterizations of Doris Montgomery, Moyne Smith, Sarah Snow, but the whole cast deserves a bow for fine work: Margaret Cahill, Joseph Spain, Robert Matthews, Marylou Kelly, Nicholas Muller, Edward Anderson, Barbara Epstein, Herbert McAneny, Phebe Gulick and James Hopkins.

Mr. Becker's fine bits of staging were most effective, and combined with the wonderful ensemble work of his readers, made a moving experience of a superb contempoary play (one with a permanent fundamental meaning.)

This viewer admits to being happy that the unfortunate luck which brought cancellation of the scheduled melodrama turned into good fortune. And shame on the people who stayed away from "The Crucible" in droves. They missed community theatre at a most important top level.

McCARTER THEATRE

Cornelia Otis Skinner, the famed monologuist who will be appearing on June 7 and 9 with comedian-magician Fred Keating in "Characters and Chicanery," is hoping to find material for a new series of performances in her visit.

ance was scheduled to provide entertainment for wives and families attending Princeton Reunions at the Friday night "closed show," may end her visit with a sketch on "The Wives of Princeton Alumni." "Personal observation is at the root of all my portraits," she admits, "and the Reunion performance may furnish just that."

Norris Houghton, co-director of New York's Phoenix Theatre who is returning to Princeton for his 25th reunion, originated the idea of booking the team into McCarter for Friday night ( a plan which was expanded to include two more performances). The pair of artists appeared at the Phoenix last winter in "Phoenix Sideshow."

If "The Wives of Princeton Alumni" proves a verdant field, the sketch will join others, such as "The Wives of Henry VIII" and "The Loves of Charles II" which Miss Skinner has created and acted. She is also responsible for a number of books, including the best-selling "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" which she wrote in collaboration with Emily Kimbrough.

Miss Skinner would not commit herself on the possibility of a sketch. "I went to Bryn Mawr, myself, and I'd hate to be responsible for breaking up the friendly relationships between those two colleges. We need each other," she feels.

Circus Here Monday. Hunt Brothers' Circus, one of the few remaining touring circuses, will present its varied program of clowns, acrobats, strong men and animal trainers on the Witherspoon Street site Monday, under the sponsorship of the Princeton Lions Club. The circus will perform both a matinee and an evening performance.

Jack Walsh, the strong man who lifts an elephant, David Hoover and his wild lions and the Kriel Family of acrobats are among the featured presentations of the three-ring tent show. A helicopter which is used to ballyhoo the circus during its travels will also be on dsplay at the grounds.

Mr. Cook, long one of the stage's best-known leading men, will be involved in the romantic episode which befalls a summer bachelor in George Axelrod's comedy.

The entrancing girl upstairs who joins him on a trip down the primrose path will be played by Louise King, who was seen in Princeton with Eddie Bracken on the show's national tour. Miss ing also played the role with Tom Ewell in New York.

Mr. Cook scored last season at Bucks County in his starring vehicle, "The King of Hearts." Other members of the "Itch" cast will include Joan Force, Joseph Macaulay and Frank Daly.

"Itch" will run through June 16. Succeeding shows will include Jerome Cowan, Herbert Berghoff and Howard Da Silva in "The Lesser Comores," by the author of "My Three Angels" and "The Little Hut" (June 18-23); "The World of Sholom Aleichem" (June 25-30); "Tea and Sympathy" (July 2-14, two weeks), and "A House in the Country" (July 16-21.)

MUSIC CIRCUS

"The King and I," the Rogers and Hammerstein musical which played 1,246 Broadway performances, will be the opening feature at St. John Terrell's Music Circus in Lambertville. The four-week run opens on Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

Irene Manning, a veteran of movie, radio and television performances, will sing the role of Anna Leonowens as the eighth season of "music in the round" opens. Alfred Cihelli, Yul Brunner's understudy in the national tour of the musical, will play the King.

It's New to Us

Love Light. Among the insect repellents the moskeeto-lites and the citronella candles at the Wright Store, (130 Nassau) there is a pristine white candle with a white ribbon and a cluster of lilies of the valley around its waist. It is a "Memory Candle" to give a bride and groom on their wedding day.

The white, rough-surfaced candle stands 18 inches high on a four-inch base that tapers to a two-inch top. Has to be big because it has quite an assignment for the next few years. This candle can be burned for several hours at a wedding reception. Then it can be re-lit on each wedding anniversary celebration, and its stamina is such that it will last for the great-grandchildren to light on a Golden Wedding Day—unless you burn it at both ends meanwhile.

Between anniversaries, you could set a dinner-party table with candles whose paragen base sticks to any surface. This means that the candle will fit any holder. All you have to do is twist it slightly to make it adhere. Comes in plain or a baroque twist, white or pastels.

None of this white nonsense in another candle. It looks white enough all right, but when you light the wick and the wax begins to drip, the candle turns out to be every color you ever heard of. It's a regular cascade of colored wax after a while—might be gay on a barbeque table.

For Jersey dwellers who are determined to eat outdoors, bugs or no, there is a new Moskeeto-lite. It has a "vapor booster ring" that's supposed to spread the vapor around for greater effect. Two in a set cost $1.98 and the manufacturers recommend the use of four. Smells like cinnamon.

Do your cooking on a home-made grill. A kit of plasticrete blocks, smooth cement shelves and various grill parts, costs $39.95. For one-chop cooks, there is a baby grill for $2.95 that someone else has put together for you.

Of Sheets and Cases. Girls whose hope chests have been fulfilled can still use extra linens and blankets. Stone's Linen Shop (20 Nassau) finds itself in an excellent position to take care of these matters.

New monograms this June are in satin or gold lame for the very best towels. For sheets, there are colored monograms to harmonize with the color and pattern of the bedding. Extra-large sheets are available in this specialty shop, with extra-large blankets, extra-large mattress pads and the facilities for making extra-large spreads, custom style.

Summer-weight blankets come from the looms of Chatham, Springfield and North Star. The latter presents a white blanket with a floral design and there are matching sheets with the same pattern. Most summer-weight blankets are wool and nylon or orlon and rayon.

Fill a bride's linen closet with small extras: a natural linen bridge set that's a field for colored meadow flowers. Has four plain colored napkins. Buy scented, padded hangers to protect a trousseau. Or a giddy felt bag in a choice of eight colors, each one with a pinked appliqued flower dewed with a sequin. Bag is a commodious carry-all with an outside snap flap that gives even more room.

Cool Restraint. Summer foundation garments at Edith's Corset Shop (10 Chambers) have been designed with one eye on a heat wave. Consider Vesserette's girdle with its elastic net—"Banlon" —soft as worn batiste or a good grade of cashmere. (From $5.95 in plain or panty style). Simone's designers have produced a similar girdle in white cotton lace that has been elasticized. (From $6.50.)

Strapless summer dresses call for something like the strapless slip with an elastic back and a boned bra front. (One style has a gathered back instead of the elastic.) These come in nylon $12.95) or cotton ($10.95) in sizes 32-38.

Exquisite Form's summer contribution is a white lace wired bra with elastic back and nylon lace fabric. Warner's "Merry Widow" wears cotton for summer: in a long-line bra with its own garters.

A corselette in white nylon net and lace is strapless for summer dresses. It's priced from $18.50, depending on fabric.

Cotton and decron combine for summer coolness. A no-iron slip of this hybrid fabric comes in white with nylon net at top and bottom.

Pale rose yellow has been used for a gown and peignoir set of double nylon. The gown is white with an overlay of the yellow, the coat is all yellow, with deep white lace ruffles around balloon puff sleeves.

A tailored white nylon gown has been cut with deep gores to give a princess effect in front. Back is sharply gathered for full folds. Sprays of appliqued pink roses follow the lines of the gores, and minute shoe-string straps loop over the shoulders.

Coolest gown in town is a pale blue "baby doll," very short shorty, scarcely longer than a smock, with matching lace-trimmed bloomer shorts. Front is deeply and permanently pleated, flounced with a blue satin bow, and finished off with white lace straps.

Flamenco!

Like most Americans, our experience with Flamenco has been on this side of the footlights, and however much we've admired the Spanish gypsy dancing, we've always left the castanets in somebody else's hands.

Now comes Flemenco to Princeton. A friend of Sr. Antonio Valero has persuaded this Flamenco pro to give lessons here once a week. Senior Valero, a native of Andalucia, even as Flamenco, has appeared in Havana, Rio de Janeiro, the Moulin Rouge in Paris, theaters in Madrid. He has toured with Carmen Ameya, danced with La Argentinita Pilar Lopez and the great Jose Greco.

"For the past few years he has given lessons, but to professionals only. This venture to Princeton is his first experience with inexperience.

Want to learn? Class is open to everyone, and its impresario, Miss G. E. Larky, believes that high school boys and girls will find Flammenco particularly exciting; it's fast, colorful rhythmic. Age means nothing, however; bring your arthritis and join the teen-agers.

Class begins this Friday, June 1, at 8 p. m. To register call Miss Larky at 1-5050. A central location has been chosen for the lessons, but it is not permanent, and if anybody has a spare room with a good sturdy floor . . .

the usual festive opening, with fireworks and ollo acts. He also said that beginning June 9, performances would be given at 6.30 and 9:30 p.m. each Saturday.

Mr. Terrell has also announced a break with tradition as the Music Circus has scheduled "The House of the August Moon" for its final production. The Pulitzer Prize-winning comedy will be presented from September 11 through September 23.

The cast will include many members of the original troupe since it is coming to Lambertville direct from a national tour. The comedy, which played 1,027 performances on Broadway, has had more foreign productions than any other recent Broadway show.

PLAYHOUSE

The Man Who Knew Too Much (May 31-June 5) is a rehash of an old Alfred Hitchcock thriller, done biggter but not better by the master himself. The plot involves Jimmy Stewart, as an American doctor, and his wife, Doris Dey, in an attempted assassination. Hitchcock's masterful use of suspense and setting is still evident in the picture, which moves from North Africa to London, but the large screen deprives the picture of much of the mood of the earlier work.

The Searchers (June 6-12) is an above--average Western which features the grand old man of the shoot 'em-ups, John "Wayne, costarred with Jeffrey Hunter. John Ford is another top talent who has an interest in the picture and his direction is good in this adaption of a magazine serial about two men who are hunting for two white girls abducted by the Comanches.

THE GARDEN

Samurai (May 31) finds the Japanese again doing a lovely job in color with a classic story of the 17th Century. Toshiro Mifune, the lustful bandit in "Roshomon," scores again as an ambitious warrior and master swordsman, seeking a career with the Samurai, the select militia of feudal war days. Kaoru Yachigusa and Mariko Okada are two actresses who add a good deal, and there are fascinating costumes and backgrounds, William Holden delivers a partial narration.

Lover Boy (June 1-2) is a picture which does not always measure up to the Hays Office code, but since it is British with a French star, this does not matter much. Gerard Philipe is the young rogue who breaks the hearts of Valerie Hobson and Joan Greenwood, and the trio all do excellent jobs. The comments on love are often witty, often ironical, often charming, and never for the children.

YWCA Benefit. On Saturday morning, there will be a special children's show featuring "Challenge to Lassie" and five Walt Disney cartoons, beginning at 10:30 a. m. The showing is a benefit performance for the Y-Teen Clubs of the YWCA to provide funds for the movie which they are producing on Y-Teen activities.

Lovers and Lollipops (June 4-9) is a pictorial study of love in various New York sites, written, produced and directed by Morris Engel and Ruth Orkin, the pair that made "Little Fugitive." The story of a child who tries to understand the fact that a suitor is wooing his widowed mother is strictly subverted to shots of Central Park, the Museum of Modern Art and the Statue of Liberty. Also, a thirty-minute short on the Grace Kelley-Prince Rainier wedding.

Prowler Caught, Sentenced. Working on a complete description provided hy a frightened woman in Lake Carnegie Estates, Township police this week apprehended David Burnett of Kingston, an east side prowler who has been sought for weeks. The "Peeping Tom" startled the housewife at 1:05 a.m. Saturday when he peered thrnugh her kitchen window, his face right up against the pane.

Burnett was arrested Sunday following investigative work which pointed the finger of suspicion directly ot him. On Monday, he was brought before Township Magistrate Louis R. Gerber, sitting in special session, and sentenced to six months in the county workhouse for violation of the disorderly persons statutes.

Errant Driver Fined. George Bromm of Blawenburg, the driver who startled Mercer Street householders and passing motorists by knocking down part of Trinity Church's picket fence two weeks ago, paid $45 in fines in Municipal Court this week for his curb-jumping. Magistrate Paul R. Chesebro assessed the defendant $30 for leaving the scene of an accident and another $15 for careless driving.

Dixieland for the Fete

On the time-tested theory that Dixieland music puts those who hear it in a mood for entertainment, a jazz sextet will tour Princeton Saturday as a principal drawing card for the Hospital Fete. Its personnel will play atop a flat-bottom truck and will also be heard at the scene of the annual event, the Westminster Choir College Campus, Chestnut Street and Hamilton Avenue.

Known variously as "Baker's Irregulars" or "Bud Baker and His Five Fickle Fingers of Fete," the band is led by trumpet-blowing Elias T. ("Bud") Baker, who had his own 14-piece band while at the University of Pennsylvania; trombonist Wilder Hobson, whose views on music are frequently found in the Saturday Review of Literature; tuba - playing Mrs. Hobson; clarinetist Fred Struve, a Princeton High alumnus now a freshman at Rutgers; pianist Sondy Maxwell, a composer and former Triangle Club president; and drummer Charlie Stuart, a fourth former at Princeton Country Day.

was fined $17 for four overtime parking tickets, dating back as far as November, 1954.

Magistrate Chesebro imposed $15 assessments on two Princeton speeders, but devoted most of his fine-collecting time on out-of-town motorists, 16 in all. The two from here were Charles W. Widman Jr., 206 Moore Street, and L. H. Snyder, 313 Hodge Hall, Princeton Theological Seminary.

Commemorative Gift Chosen. A silver mace will be the gift of residents of the Princeton community to Princeton University in observance of the 200th anniversary of the moving of the world-famed institution to Princeton.

Choice of the symbolic gift to be used at all official convocations of the University was announced this week by B. Franklin Bunn, chairman of special committee named by the mayors of the Borough and Township. The mace will be presented at ceremonies in September.

Funds to meet the cost of the gift will be raised by popular subscription. Subscriptions, which are tax exempt, should be made payable to the "Princeton Mace Fund" and mailed care of Irving W. Mershon, a member of the committee, at 142 Nassau Street.

A gift of money and lands from Princeton citizens first brought the college here two centuries ago and Mr. Bunn this week noted that a gift "symbolizing the 200 years of association of college and community seems most appropriate." Princeton was then the ten-year-old College of New Jersey, first located in Elizabeth and then in Newark. New Brunswick was also a possible site for the young college, but the trustees decided to accept the offer of Princeton.

Citizens of the community had come forward with funds, which eventually reached 3,700 pounds, and land. Nathaniel FitzRandolph, a leader in the fund raising, donated the four and a half acres on which Nassau Hall was built and is now known as the Front Campus.

The presentation of the mace to the University will be made at a convocation in September, at which the 200th anniversary of the completion of Nassau Hall will be observed. Ground was broken for the now famous building in 1754 and the students and tutors of the college occupied it in the fall of 1756.

The mace has been chosen for the community gift as the traditional symbol of institutional authority. Mr. Bunn pointed out the Princeton University has never had one as other traditionsteeped universities such as Oxford, Cambridge, Harvard and Yale.

The mace will be appropriately inscribed and carry traditional Princeton Symbols in the design. The large silver instrument will be carried by the chief marshal at the head of academic processions and then set before the president. Between official occasions, it will be kept in a glass case in the tradition-filled Faculty Room of Nassau Hall.

The design will follow the traditional American pattern of an eagle surmounting an orb, as represented by the mace of the House of Representatives. The eagle represents freedom and the orb vested authority. The tradition and form of maces stems from the fasces carried at the head of Roman legions.

The Township and the Borough have already extended official greetings to the University through similar resolutions. Members of the joint committee engaged in the commemorative project, in addition to Mr. Bunn and Mr. Mershon, are:

Mayor P. MacKay Sturges, of the Borough, and Mayor John H. Wallace, Jr., of the Township, and Henry Chauncey, George B. Conover, Dr. Elmer W. Engstrom, Dr. Charles R. Erdman, Sr., Harry A. Farr, Harold M. Hinkson, Harold K. Hochschild, Joseph S. Hoff, Dean Mathey, David H. McAlpin, Frederick S. Osborne, Professor

Charles C. Osgood, Dilman M. K. Smith, Howerd B. Waxwood, Jr., and John C. Williams.

International Prize to Lefschetz. Dr. Solomon Lefschetz, professor of mathematics emeritus and former chelrman of the department at Princeton, has been ewarded one of the highest mathematics honors in the world, the Antonio Feltrinelli International Prize, given from time to time by the Academia Nazionale dei Lincei in Rome.

The prize consists of e cash prize of five million lire (the equivalent of $8,000) in recognition of outstanding achelvements in mathematics, and their applications. It was established by a deceased Italian industrialist and is administered by one of Europe's oldest and most distinguished academies of learning.

Dr. Lefschetz, who is 71, will receive the prize in Rome next month. He retired from the Princeton faculty in 1953 after three decades in the mathematics department, the last 12 as its chairman. A native of Moscow, Dr. Lefschetz is a former president of the American Mathematical Society.

A Lesson for Parents. Adults of Princeton Township received appreciable insight into the trials and tribulations of their Board of Education this past week as they got a chance to sit in on a special public meeting of twofold importance. They saw the Board open bids on the $695,000 bond issue for Littlebrook School and then heard the outline of a master plan for the optimum use of all Township schools.

The most favorable bid for financing Littlebrook, now under construction in the eastern section of the Township, was submitted by the Fidelity Union Trust Co. of Newark, which offered an interest rate of 2.45% and a premium of $1,000. Eleven companies participated in the bidding, most of them asking for an interest rate in the neighborhood of 2.60%. .

As proposed by a committee consisting of William L. Wilson, chairman, John K. White, James A. Perkins and Mrs. Bertha Eisenmann, superintendent of schools, the master plan will include the following features:

- To make maximum use of special facilities for upper grades now existing at Valley Road School, such as the gymnasium, shop for manual arts and science laboratory, all sections of grades 6, 7 and 8 are to remain at Valley Road. The same school also is scheduled to contain two sections from each of grades 1 through 5, made up of youngsters living near the school.
- Stony Brook School, which has been used in recent years for all kindergarten classes despite such drawbacks as its location on a main traffic artery, its small play area and its lack of desirable facilities for younger children, is to be converted into administrative offices for the school superintendent, and possibly the district clerk. Kindergarten youngsters are to attend Littlebrook.
- In addition to all sections of kindergarten, Littlebrook will house five sections of grade 1, four sections of grade 2, three sections of grades 3 and 4, and two sections of grade 5. This lineup, providing present enrollment is maintained, will keep class sizes within the proper range of 20 to 25 pupils in lower grades and 25 to 30 students in upper grades.

Princeton Lawyer in News. Attorney J. Seymour Montgomery of Princeton made himself heard throughout the state this week—particularly in Trenton—as he filed a suit in Federal Court to recover more than $64,000 in salaries paid by the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission to four former board members. Defendants are Leslie Brown of Trenton, John Elder of Ewing Township, C. Stanley Stults of Hightstown and J. Lindsay deValliere (for his late father) of Hopewell.

A lawyer for the Commission, Mr. Montgomery charged that salaries were paid to the four illegally, stating that the statutes do not expressly provide for compensation to members and, in fact, bar such payments, except to the Commission engineer. Actually, according to the Commission, a stunning total of $181,000 was illegally paid to members of the executive committee from 1948 on.

Green Gets New Post. John O. Green of 299 Edgerstoune Road has been named Director of Industrial Relations of the Permacel Tape Corporation, a subsidiary of Johnson and Johnson, Permacel president George C. Rieger has announced.

Mr. Green, a graduate of Yale and Harvard Law School, is a former vice president of the Lawrenceville School Alumni Association and a member of the state Chamber of Commerce Social Security Committee. He joined Johnson and Johnson in 1951 after being associated with a New York law firm.

Professor Wins Grant. Dr. Edward D. Sullivan, associate professor of French at Princeton University, is one of four Princetonians who have been granted Fulbright Awards for study abroad in the coming year.

Prof. Sullivan, a Princeton resident since 1946, is a naval veteran of the Korean War and World War II. Other recipients from Princeton University include undergraduate Jay Harbeck and graduate students Isaac Thomas and Peter T. Westergaard.

Pair to Graduate from Wells. Miss Barbara Brickley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reymond C. Brickley, 77 Hillcrest Lake Drive, and Miss Phyllis Bellows, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bellows, Mountain Road, Belle Mead, will receive their Bachelor of Arts degree from Wells College, Aurora, N. Y., on Monday.

Miss Bellows, an English major, was advertising manager of the yearbook, while Miss Brickley was affiliated with the literery magazine, yearbook and literary society. Both girls are graduates of Princeton High School.

Wins Scholarship. Douglas M. Rowan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Rowan, Rosedale Road, has been named the first recipient of a five-year Western Electric Company scholarship for engineering at Cornell University. He is a student at Lawrenceville.

A member of the wrestling team and Glee Club at Lawrenceville, Rowan is a member of the Cum Laude Society and the Mathematics, Science and Major "L" Clubs. He is attending the preparatory school on a four-year Lawrence Township scholarship which he won while in the Lawrenceville public school.

THEY PARK TO DISCUSS PARK: Two interested residents of Princeton Township, Mrs. Russell W. Skillman (in car) and Mrs. James H. Bish, chat outside a market at Princeton Shopping Center. Their subject of conversation: the proposed Princeton Research Park, which hopes to get underway soon with the transfer of Opinion Research Corporation and Gallup & Robinson from Palmer Square to North Harrison Street. For their thoughts and several others, read below. (Richards Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: How do you feel about the establishment of Princeton Research Park in Princeton Township?

Location: Princeton Shopping Center.

Mrs. Russell W. Skillman, 77 Overbrook Drive, realtor: I think it's one of the best things that could happen to Princeton Township. Taxes will be reduced for residential property, and, since the park probably will hire its own watchmen, the Township will save on police protection in the area. The park will attract the type of people who will be most welcome and, at the same time, they will greatly help, not hurt, our school situation. I think we should have even more of the same.

Mrs. James H. Bish, 220-C Eisenhower Street, housewife: I like the idea that the park will beautify an area that might otherwise have been developed into a housing subdivision that wouldn't be as appealing. That doesn't mean I'm against housing developments — I'm merely thinking in terms of enhancing Princeton's attractiveness. It should also help our employment picture, especially in opening up more offices for new business uptown.

Mrs. Adelaide Williams, Levittown, Pa., cashier at Princeton's Acme market: It sounds very logical for Princeton Township. Even though I'm not a resident, I hear people talk about the rising taxes here and I know they will be glad to see anything that helps lower them. It should help develop new business for stores in the Shopping Center. Princeton is very nice already, and the park should add to its pleasant atmosphere.

Joseph Hastoglis, 380 Nassau Street, retired shop-owner: I like it. Despite the fact I'm out of business now, I know it will be fine for business, which in turn will be fine for Princeton. My taxes will not be affected, since I live in the Borough, but I appreciate the idea of its establishment helping the people of the Township to save tax dollars.

Mrs. Alden D. Groff, 56 Armour Road, housewife: I don't see why it will do any harm. It's certainly in keeping with all the other institutions around Princeton. It will be better out here than in the Borough, where it's already too crowded. I feel the directors of the new park might take it upon themselves to help build better homes in the area for their own personnel. They could even call open Township meetings to pull the area up by its own bootstraps.

Full Speed Ahead

Called Princeton Township's greatest tax bonanza in a time of dire tax needs, Princeton Research Park now is expected to get a quick green light following a brief, delaying amber flash two weeks ago. Providing the Township Committee acts with the same dispatch its Planning Board employed this Monday evening, there is reason to believe the 66-acre, multi - million - dollar development will start a-building by the end of June.

Town Topics' inquiring reporter, anxious to feel the pulse of Princeton Township regarding the proposed campus-style park, decided to base his Question of the Week on plans for the park and figured a good place to ask it was the Princeton Shopping Center, located a stone's throw south of the research acreage on Harrison Street. The pulse beat turned out to be an excited one. For a reading, see the results elsewhere on this page.

Walter V. Emann, 449 Ewing Street, Township policeman: The value of the surrounding area, where I live, will go up due to the beautifying. Naturally, I go for that. Also, it shouldn't add much burden to our patrol at all — just a few new streets for us to drive for a change of pace. I'm in favor of the strong possibility of its lowering our taxes, which have almost doubled in recent years. I wish we could get more research units of this type in the Township.

Mrs. Caroline Adams, 77 Clay Street, housewife: I think the idea's great. I know it is going to help those of us who live in the downtown area. It will help eliminate much of the downtown traffic congestion by spreading out business and it definitely will aid the acute downtown parking problem.

John M. Grossett, Franklin Park, salesman: The new research park will encourage business in the Shopping Center as well as in town. As a matter of fact, I believe anything helping the Center will automatically help the town. The more business in town, of course, and the better town you've got. I don't see why it shouldn't keep on snowballing in Princeton's favor.

THE MOST HAPPY FELLAS: Seven members of a State Highway Department blacktop-patching crew, including foreman Joseph Smith (far right), appeared in a festive mood this past week after putting the finishing touches on the new "middle" bridge connecting Princeton with Kingston. Their pose marked the end of a badly needed five-week job that necessitated a five-week detour around Lake Carnegie. Behind them, out of sight, a department bridge-building crew quickly reinforced and replated a second wooden span over the Delaware-Raritan canal before re-opening the links for traffic, thus giving this section of the old Lincoln highway a new look. Their one ominous departure note: the canal bridge will require a complete overhaul job soon, so Princeton and Kingston may face another five-week problem next spring.

Hospital Fete This Saturday. Now a Princeton tradition, after successfully mixing fun and fund-raising for the past two springs, the annual Hospital Fete will be presented for a third time from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday at Westminster Choir College. Red arrows, to be displaced by Boy Scouts, will mark all main routes to the 1956 Fete site at the intersection of Chestnut Street and Hamilton Avenue.

Sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of Princeton Hospital, with Mrs. Donald W. Griffin serving as Fete chairman, this year's benefit celebration will earmark all proceeds for the renovation of historic Merwick, the Bayard Lane mansion that will soon become a badly needed convalescent adjunct for the hospital.

Feature attraction of the 1956 event will be an elaborate Collectors' Auction, a distinct departure from the highlights of previous Fetes. Heirlooms and other worthwhile objects, obtained from innumerable area homes over a two-month period by a 40-woman solicitations committee, will be placed on veteran auctioneer Lester Slatoff's block for spirited bidding.

The Fete's most colorful offering will be its yearly Flower Show, with horticultural as well as arrangements exhibits. Judges for the former will be James S. Clarke and John Mitchell, while Mrs. S. Morse Archer Jr., Mrs. H. McKim Steele and Mrs. E. H. Wellemeyer will judge the arrangements entries

In addition to the two headline attractions of the Fete, there will be a novel "Lane of Shops" for the sale of varied items of interest, foods of all descriptions ranging from rare dishes to traditional fair fare, and outstanding entertainment for youngsters, including a "live" appearance by TV star Sandy Becker.

Mrs. Griffin, checking last-minute plans, observed that there will be something for everyone at the 1956 Fete and expressed the hope that everyone in Princeton will turn out for the important benefit event. She said volunteers from the Princeton Rotary Club will direct cars to Westminster's ample parking space and keep traffic moving throughout the Fete.

Cranbury Inn Sold. A pair of Princeton University graduates, Maurice J. D'Agostino '46 and Asa S. Bushnell 3d '47, this week completed negotiations for purchase of The Cranbury Inn, historic eating place and tavern eight miles southeast of Princeton. Nelson T. Abbott of Belmar, proprietor of the in for the past six years, sold the business to the new partnership.

In announcing the purchase, Mr. D'Agostino of Cranbury and Mr. Bushnell of Hightstown said they planned to take over operation of the inn next Tuesday. They will close the picturesque dining room for 10 days, to permit extensive renovation before their official opening June 15, but will continue service in the inn's taproom and package liquor store without interruption.

Mr. D'Agostino, member of a well-known Trenton family, will leave the sales force of BILDISCO, wholesale distributors of building products in Elizabeth, to handle his duties as co-manager of the Cranbury establishment. Prior to joining the BILDISCO staff two years ago, he was associated with Tidewater Oil of Newark for more than six years, serving as assistant district manager at the time of his departure.

Mr. Bushnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Asa S. Bushnel, 71 Palmer Square, will continue in his present position as an Assistant Editor of Town Topics while sharing the inn's management. He joined the staff of Town Topics last summer after more than six years with the Tucson Daily Citizen, three years of which were spent in the capacity of City Editor.

When the Cranbury Township Committee approved transfer of The Cranbury Inn's liquor license from Mr. Abbott to the new owners Monday night, it marked the first ownership transfer since 1950 but hardly the first since the inn was established back in 1780. As a matter of fact, records reflect many changes in operators and proprietors of the noted eating spot.

From its founding in 1780 until 1920, the inn was known as the United States Hotel, located on "King George's Road," storied public highway that linked the Southern colonies with those of New England. For the past 36 years, the popular stopping-off place has been called The Cranbury Inn, a new name the new partners intend to retain.

Community Council Elects. Mrs. Everett P. Tomlinson has been elected president of the Council of Community Services. Other officers chosen at the annual meeting were Mrs. Dankwart A. Rustow, second vice-president; Mrs. Harold Sprout, third vice-president; Mrs. Margaret Nevin, recording secretary; and Mrs. Sykes Terry, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Robert S. Gardner will continue her term as first vice-president. Directors of the Council chosen at the meeting include B. Woodhull Davis, J. Donald Butler and Warren Fnidley (1958-59); Mrs. Jess Epstein and Frank Stover (1957-58), and Mrs. David Bowers (1956-57).

Featured on the program of the 10th annual meeting of the Council was a panel discussion on the topic, "The Council and the United Community Fund Coordinate their Activities." Warren Findley introduced the panel, which consisted of Mrs. Faye Broadwater of the Newark Council, J. Donald Butler of the Princeton Council, and Thomas P. Cooke and Walter H. Scott of the United Community Fund.

The following individual members elected to serve two-year terms were George Alexander, Mrs. J. W. Ballantine, Jack Bardon, Mrs. Norman Buchanan, Ralph Hulit, P. J. McCrohan, William Nealley, Mrs. Irving Ness, Mrs. R. W. Sinkler, Mrs. James Stewart, Mrs. Francis X. Sutton, Mrs. Luman Tenney, Dr. J. Kendall Wallis and Mrs. L. Norris Kerr.

Stevenson Group Meets. Archibald S. Alexander, former treasurer of New Jersey and now director of the National Stevenson for President headquarters, told 100 volunteer New Jersey Stevenson workers at a meeting at the Princeton Inn Saturday that the "decisive defeat" of Sen. Estes Kefauver in this state was "in many ways a turning point in the Stevenson movement."

Mr. Alexander spoke at the luncheon session of the conference, which was held to discuss methods of bringing the issues of the Presidential campaign to the people. The national Stevenson director observed that, although Stevenson did not thing he wanted to carry on a "handshaking" campaign, the fact that competition from Kefauver forced him to the move "may prove important after the National Convention, providing Mr. Stevenson wins the nomination."

He pointed out that Stevenson is getting personal contact with the people that he would not otherwise have obtained. Mr. Alexander, however, also defended Stevenson's basic ideas concerning the way a campaign should be conducted. In defense of the approach taken by Stevenson in his speeches, Alexander read a letter from the wife of Senator Richard Neuberger (D. Ore.) stating that the public likes to feel that the president is more intelligent than they are.

Mrs. Neuberger referred to objections that Stevenson's speeches were "over the heads" of the people, and pointed out that "Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was probably over the head of many people at that time." The Princeton meeting was planned and conducted by the New Jersey Stevenson for President Committee, which is directed by George F. Kennan and Mrs. Frank Fobert, Basking Ridge, co-chairmen.

Mrs. Henry D. Smyth of Princeton is secretary of the state committee. Co-operating with plans for the meeting were John P. Poe and Mrs. Marvin Bernstein, co-chairmen of the newly-formed Princeton Stevenson for President committee.

Legion Schedules Activities. Among the many projects planned for the coming month by the Princeton Post No. 76, American Legion, is a cake sale Saturday to benefit the Post Welfare Fund. The sale will be held at the Hook and Ladder and Chemical Company Firehouse on Witherspoon Street from 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

A wide assortment of cakes will be offered at a reasonable price, according to Post Commander Nathaniel McKee. Delivery and pick-up of cakes to be donated can be arranged by contacting the sale co-chairmen, Marino Ferrara and William Haupt.

The Post will hold its next regular meeting Wednesday, June 13. Important business including plans for the Fourth of July celebration will be presented at the 8 p. m. meeting at Post headquarters, 55 Mercer Street.

A fireworks program contract was made with the Ionio Fireworks Manufacturing Company of Flemington at a special session of the Post executive committee last week. The program, which will be held in Palmer Stadium July 4, will be the first since 1952 because of repairs which were being carried out in the stadium during the holiday period in the intervening three years.

The Post color guard and members have been invited to take part in the dedication ceremonies at Lawrence Township Post 414, American Legion. Commander McKee, Marino Ferrara, William Birch, Henry Robertiello, Norman Fowler, Andrew O'Hara and D. Don Richards are among the members planning to attend. The parade will begin at 1 p. m.

Meyner's Stock Soars

Voter satisfaction with the job Governor Robert B. Meyner is doing in Trenton hit a new high level this week as the New Jersey Poll reported more than seven out of every 10 citizens — 72% — are happy with the chief executive's work. Only 17 in every 100 voters disapprove of his handling of the state government.

This week's results represented the fourth of a series of Meyner popularity measurements conducted by the Poll, a continuing feature of Princeton Research Service. Earlier findings showed 55% in favor of the governor back in February, 1954, when the first measurement was taken followed by 65% a year later and 67% last September.

A highlight of the latest Poll report indicated Governor (85%) with the state's Independent voters. New Jersey Republicans were somewhat him at 62%, but rank and file Democrats expressed 78% approval to raise the Meyner mark to its new high.

HAIL TO THE CONQUERING HEROES: Hun School's jubilant baseball players wax enthusiastic after edging Bryn Athyn, 5-4, for their 15th straight triumph and the first undefeated season in Red and Black annals. Receiving much of the well-deserved attention are Bruce Davis (hoisted at left), who pitched his eight and ninth victories within 48 hours of each other last week, and Shortstop Earl Cottrell (also on shoulders), who drove in tying and winning runs in final frame of last game after allowing Bryn Athyn to take the lead on a wild throw. At right, gesticulating happily, is Zig Emery, elated Hun coach. For details of the Johnny Huns' hair-raising finish, see Sports in Princeton. (Richards Photo).

Playoff at New Haven. For the second time in the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League's 26-year history, Princeton and Yale will meet in a playoff for the championship. Game-time at New Haven on Saturday is 2:30; for those who plan to drive to the scene, leave the Merritt Parkway at Exit 57 and Yale Field is on the right about two miles toward New Haven.

Indications are that the left-handers' pitching duel of May 5 will be repeated and if Captain Jim Gibson has fully recovered from the severe attack of grippe that felled him in mid-May, Princeton will have approximately an even chance of trimming the Eils on their own field—a particularly tough assignment in a championship game. Gibson hurled the final two innings against Fordham last Saturday, his first work since he entered the Infirmary the day before the Penn game on May 12.

On paper and on the diamond, the Tiger captain has the edge on Yale's ace, Captain Ken MacKenzie. Gibson is 4-0 in league competition and in 34 innings has a great 0.54 earned run average. He has fanned 31, given up 27 hits and walked only 10. In the May 5 meeting here between Yale and Princeton, he beat the Blue handily, 4 to 1, allowing only three hits and retiring the side in order seven times.

MacKenzie also has won four, losing only to Princeton, but has a fairly vulnerable earned run average of 3.09. He has worked 44 innings, claiming 36 strike-outs, allowing that many hits and walking 17. He is, however, a highly capable pitcher and has the distinct advantage of facing five left-handed batters in a row at the top of the Tiger order. If Gibson cannot start and Leigh Ford is the choice, six of the nine Princetonians to whom southpaw MacKenzie will pitch will swing from the left side of the plate.

Tigers Blanked. An additional week of practice may serve to regain for the Tigers the drive that carried them to a 7-2 mark and a first-place tie in league competition. Certainly it was lacking against Fordham last Saturday as the Orange and Black absorbed its first shutout of the season by a 3-0 count.

Jack McQuade, a righthander who was no better than 4-3, and a Fordham team that had lost seven times in 16 games looked like world-beaters in comparison to the sluggish Princetonians. Two of the three hits they made were scratch and they committed numerous oversights that ranged from failure to cover bases to being picked off in the middle of promising rallies.

Ford worked the first seven innings, giving up two earned runs in the fourth after two were out. Gibson replaced him and was touched for an unearned tally in the ninth made possible by some sloppy infield play.

The Tigers had their best chance in the second, when Royce Flippin walked and Tom Morris got a double on a soft shot over first that fell just inside the line and eluded the right fielder. But on the first pitch, the squeeze was on and Larry Durante's pop bunt was taken by McQuade and a subsequent race to the bag beat Flippin. Unassisted double plays by the pitcher are true baseball rarities.

In the event of rain Saturday, Princeton will go to New Haven next Thursday, June 7, to battle for the championship. The day before, the Tigers are scheduled to travel to Easton to meet Lafayette.

Yale will be back here on Saturday, June 9, for the annual commencement game (which last year was cancelled by rain for the first time in half a century.) In the event that rain has washed out both the June 2 and June 7 dates at New Haven, the reunion game here will determine the title.

Fitting Finish for Hun. Coach Zig Emery's hot-shot Hun School baseball team celebrated the first undefeated diamond season in school history this week following a true storybook windup to the 1956 campaign. In a span of some 48 hours last week, the Red & Black nine squeaked past stubborn, once-beaten BMI, 2-1, then came from behind in the bottom of the season's final frame to edge Bryn Athyn, 5-4, for the vital 15th consecutive triumph.

Earl Cottrell, Hun's fiery shortstop who once starred for Hamilton High, provided the real dramatics last Friday with a goat-turned-hero performance. After giving Bryn Athyn its lead run in the top of the sixth, by way of an overthrow error, the clutch batter delivered a first-pitch double in the last of the seventh to send home a pair of runs and save the year's record as well as the day for the Princeton club.

Bruce (Bo) Davis, the Johnny Huns' superlative hurler, enjoyed a pretty fair afternoon, too. He relieved Alan Shepard with two runs in and with none out in the opening inning, and went on to pitch three-hit ball the rest of the way for his ninth victory of the spring. Of great significance, he managed the splendid achievement after going the distance against BMI two days earlier, limiting the hard-hitting Bordentown batters to five safeties.

Hun, with only six hits to its credit, was pressed to shade BMI. A sacrifice fly by George Cramer of Princeton scored the first run in the fourth and Cramer's single in the sixth drove in the decisive tally. BMI closed the gap in the last of the sixth on a pair of singles and one of Davis' infrequent passed balls.

Coach Emery's unbeatables played Bryn Athyn without their solid second baseman, Jim Lavan, who fractured an ankle trying to slide across the plate in the BMI encounter, but pressure efforts by Davis and Cottrell, each with two hits, for four of Hun's five, took care of the situation. Cottrell's winning smash, incidentally, followed a walk to Frank Lewallen, who stole second and went to third on an error, and another walk to Davis, who also stole second, all with one out.

Manager Dick Bryan, without figuring percentages to the nearest decimal point in time for Town Topics' deadline, announced that Lewallen, Davis and Lavan batted over .400 for the season, with Cottrell near the .400 mark. The latter was rumored to have been offered a Cleveland Indians' contract on the basis of his outstanding play, and there was a strong indication that the young Trentonian will choose a baseball career in preference to college.

Letter Winners. Four Princeton area residents at The Hun School have been awarded letters as members of the unbeaten baseball team and five others received letters in crew. Baseball awards went to:

Alan Shepard, 36 Jefferson Road; Robert Cox, 260 Moore Street; Alan Frank, Jr., The Great Road; and Richard Bryan, manager. Crew letter-winners included Thomas Tilton, Jr., Lawrenceville; Anthony Pirone, 125 Jefferson Road; Fred Blaicher, Jr., Carter Road; William Hagenbuch, Poe Road; and James Campbell, 3d, 440 Franklin Avenue.

"Wait'll Next Year." Still licking their 1956 baseball wounds, the Little Tigers of Princeton High tried desperately this week to forget the recent past and look far ahead. They reasoned that the 1957 season will be much better because it couldn't be much worse.

Coach Morrill Shepard's nine, for which some optimism was expressed two months ago, completed its campaign last Friday with a tight 3-2 loss in Somerville. The defeat was Princeton's eighth in 11 games, a bad year no matter how nice it would be to write an encouraging word or two.

The PHS finale was an all-too-customary performance, especially in the eyes of Little Tiger Pitcher Russ Watson, who again went the distance. Somerville's three runs, on only five safeties, were unearned. Princeton's punchless batters, with a team average that will not be discussed this year, picked up but three hits in support (or lack of it) of Watson.

The Blue and White right-hander, who finished the season with a wholly unexpected 1-6 record, proved effective in a half-dozen of his outings and posted an ERA of less than three, certainly a credit to his personal endeavors. Shoddy fielding and unproductive plate work behind him resulted in statistical disaster.

Ammermans Hit Triples. The Somerville contest symbolized Princeton's spring-long difficulties. Two solid triples, by Catcher Alan Ammerman and his brother, First Baseman Lee Ammerman, after innings of meaningless swings, were sandwiched around a walk to Steve Hogarty in the sixth and gave the Little Tigers a 2-0 margin. In the last of the sixth, Watson allowed a pair of singles that meant nothing until an error sent home Somerville run No. 1 and a flue-squeeze hunt so startled Princeton's defense that the winning marker come right in on the heels of the tying run.

The Ammermans' three-baggers were timely, but there were not enough of them during the season. Lee's triple, his sole hit of the afternoon, gave him 9 for 35 during the campaign for a team-pacing average of .257. Alan's triple, plus a lead-off single in the first frame, gave him 9 for 36 and dubious runner-up honors at .250.

PHS Manager Bruce McKinney, who performed his duties enthusiastically despite the woes of a losing club, pointed out that Princeton dropped four shutouts and two games by one run, indicative of the problems inflicted on hurlers Watson and Howie Phox (2-2). Philosophically, McKinney blamed bad weather at the season's outset for much of the trouble, explaining that batting practice came too late and then, in an effort to improve their hitting, the players neglected their fielding. "It's also pretty tough to field o winning ball club ot a school that has a terrific trock team attracting many of its best athletes," he added.

Next year, Coach Shepard will have Phox, a junior, and Ivan Riddick, a fast-balling JV twirler, to anchor his pitching staff. He'll have sophomore Alon Ammerman, on improving competitor, behind the plate and Hogarty, Roger Morgan and Dave Britton on hand to solidify his infield. He'll also have a much better team if the boys play and practice a lot between now and then—just in case Princeton experiences another cold spring.

PHS Netmen Nipped. The tennis forces of Princeton High School, hopeful of registering some sort of impression in group III competition, completed their 1956 campaign this week with a creditable 7-2 mark in Central Jersey league play. But they failed in their impression shot as a result of a combination of tournament mismanagement and psychological warfare.

Difficulty developed in the NJSIAA championships at Princeton University last weekend, when meet officials arbitrarily moved Red Bank Catholic from the top, 17-team bracket to the bottom, 16-team bracket to play PHS in place of a school that failed to show up. As luck would have it, Catholic was the only team which had beaten the Little Tigers in loop matches this spring — by identical 3-2 scores, both in 10 days prior to the championships.

Coach John Arscott's Blue & White team, having breezed through the tourney's opening round, expected to advance to at least the semi-finals of their bracket and figured they were through with Red Bank for the season. But they weren't, and "fresh" Catholic — playing its first NJSIAA opponent — managed a third slim victory, this time 2-1, to oust PHS from the tournament that top-seeded Ridgewood eventually won.

Earlier last week, Princeton edged Asbury Park, 3-2, to effect its success against every foe except Red Bank. The absence of Nick Charney, No. 2 man, made the going rough with Asbury, while the absence of Bill Pfitzinger in the tournament might well have represented the deciding factor in Princeton's loss of the sole tail-tale doubles match.

Crew to England. For the fourth time in the last eight years, Princeton will be represented in England this summer by its 150-lb. crew. The unbeaten Tiger lightweights, who rate as national champions in the sport, will compete for the Thames Challenge Cup at Henley from July 4 to 7.

Cleveland Likes Sisler

As the Boston Red Sox make the rounds of American League cities, one paper after another has carried laudatory articles on the team's top relief artist, 24-year old Dave Sisler. Latest to climb on the band wagon is the Cleveland Plain Dealer, where Sisler last week pinned down a triumph over the Indians.

With the Sox ahead, 6-2, and none out in the ninth, Cleveland put men on first and second with none out. Manager Pinky Higgins promptly derricked starter Tom Brewer and waved Sisler in from the bullpen. The Princeton alumnus fanned Stu Locklin, walked Jim Bushy, struck out the dangerous Bobby Avila and got Al Smith to hoist an easy fly to short left.

It should have been the third out, but shortstop Don Buddin and left fielder Gene Stephens collided, the ball falling for a double and allowing two runs to score. With the tying run at second, Sisler then retired the slugging Vic Wertz on a routine fly to right.

Said the Plain Dealer, commenting on the "poise of the lanky young man who looks the collegiate part in street attire: "The 24-year old right-hander, only two years away from the hollowed halls of Old Nassau, hitched up his trousers, adjusted his spectacles and promptly put out the fire." The story was headlined: "Sisler's Poise Silences Noise."

trip, the crew will fly from New York on June 21 and practice on the meandering Thames for two weeks. The Tigers, who may compete against as many as 31 other crews, won at Henley in 1948 and '49, finishing third in 1953.

Edwards Twosome Wins. Unbothered by Sunday's oft-driving rain, Sandy Edwards of Pennington and his brother, Duncan, of Greenwich, Conn., scored a plus-seven to capture the championship flight of Springdale Golf Club's annual member-guest invitation tournament. James Ackerman of Princeton teamed with Mel Dickenson of Pine Valley to shoot a plus-six for runner-up honors, while Karl Pettit of Princeton and E. H. Ogden of St. David's, Pa., were third with a plus-five finish.

In the two-day tourney's first flight competition, Dick Morgan of Princeton paired with his guest, Bob Riddle of Manasquan River, to register a five-up score, good for first place. George Barrie of Princeton and E. E. Marshall of Huntington Valley, Pa., fired four-up for second position, with Dr. J. Thomas James, president of the club, and R. R. Dacey of Branch Brook a close third at three-up.

Seventy-two teams started play in the tournament Saturday, and 46 of 48 qualifying twosomes participated Sunday in spite of the storm. John B. Grover of Princeton, with Howland Jones of Rumson, won the second flight with a plus-one score, followed by Jack Cullen of Princeton and Wesley Calhoun of Philadelphia and Ed Conlin of Princeton and A. B. Bell of Charles River, both pairs with minus threes.

Eddie Donovan, versatile Princeton University coach who earned the coveted President's Cup with a 3 and 1 triumph over Dan Dickey a week earlier, failed to come home in the money in last weekend's tournament.

Yanks Top Cardinals. The Yankees, with an 8-4 victory over the Cardinals and a 17-1 victory over the Red Sox, moved into second place last week in the American division of the Midget Baseball League. The loss knocked the Cardinals out of first place in the National Division.

The Braves split two games, losing 4-3 to the Giants and beating the Dodgers 16-8, to move into a first place tie with the Pirates. The Buccaneers shut out the Red Sox, 10-0, downed the Dodgers, 13-6, and trounced the Giants 10-2.

In other games, the Tigers won three times to increase their first-place lead, downing the Yankees 6-5, the Orioles 9-3 and the Athletics 10-4. The Athletics moved into fourth place in the American Division with a 10-3 win over the Orioles.

As of Monday, with a full slate of Midget Games scheduled throughout the week, the standings were:

| American League | W. | L. | T. | Pts. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Tigers | 7 | 1 | 1 | 24 |
| Yankees | 6 | 2 | 1 | 22 |
| Orioles | 4 | 4 | 0 | 16 |

PHS Faces Severe Test. Princeton High's Little Tigers of the track run headlong into their most trying test of a trying season this Saturday at Rutgers University when they go about the task of defending their position as state champions. Coach Win Niles' charges have won the group III title for five straight years, but will have to come up with peak performances all down the line to cop the 1956 state meet.

Last week end, at the Central Jersey track and field championships in Asbury Park, PHS captured the 10th annual meet for the 10th straight time, an incredible record. Although pursued more closely than usual by eight other group III teams from this region, the Little Tigers took three individual first places and scored in every event but the low hurdles for their top showing of the spring.

Runner-up Manasquan held the advantage over Princeton in the seven Central Jersey running events, 26-23½, but PHS went wild in the half-dozen field events to post 25 1/5 points to Manasquan's 13 9/10 and sink the shore team by a 48 7/10 to 39 9/10 margin. Coach Niles was well pleased with his unexpected "bench" as well as the individual performances and figured his forces were in good shape for this week's finale.

On Monday afternoon, the coach's outlook was altered considerably as the Blue and White varsity lost its second dual match of the spring, this time by a 64½-52½ count to depth-charged Trenton High. While THS will not compete in the same class with PHS at New Brunswick, Coach Niles reached the justifiable conclusion that his best men will be obliged to produce their best to retain the state title.

Kovalakides Going Strong. Muscular Nick Kovalakides, elected co-captain of the 1957 track team with sprinter Bruce Nystrom, continued his brilliant field-event work during the past week to pace Princeton in the Central Jersey and THS meets. He accounted for 12 important points in the championship session, with a first in the javelin, a second in the discus and a third in the shot put, and, at the same time, cracked two more standards with his amazing javelin heave of 190 feet 6 inches.

The Kovalakides toss overshadowed the meet mark of 172 feet 5½ inches, held by Jim Granberry of Princeton since 1951, and topped his own PHS record of 182 feet 6 inches, established several weeks ago in the loss to Lawrenceville. Big Nick kept going in the Trenton High meet, setting no new distance marks but registering his fifth "triple" in as many dual outings for some sort of PHS record.

PHS Students Honored. Twelve seniors and six juniors have received Gold Key service awards for "outstanding character, leadership and service" from William H. Rhodes, principal of Princeton High School.

Seniors receiving the award included Arnold Alden, Lee Ammerman, Barbara Dilley, Pat Hutton, Melissa Kay, Bruce McKinney, Linda Mondone, Sally Reaser, Louise Rosendorf, Thomas Shope, Robert Sorenson and Dorothy Stalker. Juniors honored were Helen Geils, Curtis Johnson, Maija Merzinski, Karen Peterson, Neil Volwieder and Frank Young.

Salom Rizk, author of "Syrian Yankee", spoke at the assembly when the awards were presented. His talk centered on his experiences as a boy in Syria and a youth in America and was titled, "It Pays to be an Immigrant."

Scouts Honored for Aid. Certificates of Appreciation from National Boy Scout Headquarters have been presented to six scouts of St. Paul's Troop 56 for the first aid and other emergency assistance they rendered at the scene of the automobile accident last month involving the Stillwell brothers.

The certificates — "in recognition of scoutlike conduct in the application of first aid scouting skills" — went to David Patterson, Kenneth Lippmann, Michael Donahue, Robert Lippmann, Roland Crocetti and Richard Traegler. The presentations before a Parent's Night audience of 60 was made by Scoutmaster John Procaccino.

Troop 56 Court of Honor awards included: Life Scout, Pat Donahue; Star Scouts, John Raubitschek and Martin McGuinn; First Class, Chris Baker, Frank Cocciolillo and Alfred Pietrinferno; Second Class, Donald Horvath, Michael McNeil, Ralph Gutbrodt and Martin Lombardo; Tenderfoots, Michael Sweeny, Robert Bancroft, Richard Provenzano, Michael McNeil, Thomas Jones, Joseph Petty, Robert James, Anincluding wheelbarrow, three-legged and potato races.

Finals of the Pack's 1956 marbles tournament and a softball game will be another highlight of the yearly picnic. Scouts and their families will attend the event in place of the regular June meeting of Pack 77.

'Y' Elects Officers. Raymond A. Bowers, president, and Elmer E. Chase, secretary, were re-elected to their leadership posts on the Princeton YMCA board of directors at the annual voting session of the group Monday evening. Kenneth B. Hawthorne, a vice-president last year, was chosen treasurer of the 'Y' board.

Of the five-man vice-presidential contingent, John T. McLoughlin and Howard B. Waxwood were re-elected. Newly named vice-presidents are Manning R. Brown, Jack R. Rimalover and Lt. Col. Daniel Sullivan.

Busselle Heads Bureau. Alfred Busselle of 87 Lovers Lane has been sworn as head of New Jersey's new Bureau of Construction, which will have charge of the state's building program. The reorganized agency operates under the Division of Purchase and Property and replaces the old Bureau of Architecture.

Library Hour Changes. The Lawrenceville Community Library will move into summer hours on Wednesday, June 20. The library will be open for circulation purposes from 10 to 11:30 on Wednesdays from the 20th on.

The final after-school library hours will be on June 13, due to the half session the final week of school.

The new library has received a bequest donation for a book to be purchased in the name of the late David P. Smith Jr. of Green Avenue, teacher at Lawrenceville School. Other gifts will be welcomed through Mrs. Daniel Longhi, committee chairman, or Mrs. Harry Kihn, committee member.

Racoon Changes Hour. The raccoon who wandered into the Lawrenceville sub-station of Public Service early Sunday morning did a thorough job of upsetting the timing in many of the 4,500 homes in Lawrenceville, Pennington and Hopewell.

The errant 'coon lost his life on a high voltage switch and knocked out electric power from 1:15 to 2:09 a.m. The first human sufferers were those whose electric clocks sent them off to church 54 minutes late, just in time to see the congregation disbanding after services.

Final Women's Club Meeting. A meeting next Tuesday at 1:00 at the home of Mrs. R. George Kuser of Orchard Lane will close the current year for the Women's Club of Lawrenceville.

Hostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. Patrick Corrigan, Mrs. Grace Fry, Mrs. Thomas Page, Mrs. Albert H. Rees and Mrs. Kuser.

Girl Scout Year to Close. Lawrenceville Girl Scout Troop 38 will conclude its year with a meeting on Wednesday, June 6, at 3:30. A Court of Awards will be included and senior scouts will serve refreshments. Parents are invited.

Mrs. Alfred Coley, Lawrenceville Girl Scout leader for the past seven years will attend the meeting. Those in charge are Mrs. John H. Dill, Mrs. Edward Skellenger, Mrs. Oscar Neuman, Mrs. Kenneth Gooding and Miss Marilyn Jones.

Cubs to Meet. Lawrenceville Cub Scout Pack 27 will also put the finishing touches on its year with a picnic this Friday at 4 behind the 112th Field Artillery headquarters.

Parents are invited to join with their boys and bring "nosebag suppers." Other refreshments and ice cream will be furnished by the pack committee. Games, including baseball are on the schedule.

The pack committee has met to set tentative plans and leaders for next year under the direction of chairman Roger Johnson. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. John H. Dill.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

In the past few weeks, there have been several accidents caused by the sudden opening of a car door in the path of an oncoming bicyclist. In each case, the bicycle had a perfect right to be where it was; so did the car.

As it happened, the accidents did not result in serious injury — but they might have.

The point is that bicycles and bicycle riders are and always have been numerous in this community. Drivers of cars should be more aware of them. School children, and University students, have been taught and, for the most part, faithfully observe the regulations regarding the operating of bicycles in the traffic of Princeton.

For the protection of car occupant as well as bicyclist, let us remember, before opening a door on either side of our car, to make sure first that nothing, car or bicycle, is approaching.

News of the Churches

Finals. Many church groups and Sunday School classes will end their year of activities this week with a flurry of picnics and special programs. Some church schools will continue through the summer, with daily Bible study classes added for good measure. But most adult activities will stop until fall.

Members of the Woman's Guild of the Second Presbyterian church will hold a picnic next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. James A. Rowan, Rosedale Road. It will be a covered-dish luncheon, served at 12:30 by the members of Circle Two, Mrs. Louis Sherman, leader.

Those who attend this luncheon will bring gifts that will be presented later to families of migrant workers. The gifts consist of soap, toothpaste, tooth-brushes, wash cloths, towels, and toys for children.

Methodist women will hold their annual picnic next Thursday, June 7. They will meet at 6 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Max Mesner, Princeton-Kingston Road, and in the social hall of the church in case it rains.

Unitarians have scheduled a family picnic for this Sunday at noon at the home of Lyman Spitzer. Calvary Baptists will hold a Sunday School picnic on June 30; and Trinity's Sunday School will hold its annual outing at Washington Crossing this Saturday. Busses will leave the church at 9:30 a.m.

New Beginning. Vacation Bible school, already announced for Lutheran of the Messiah (starts June 25), will begin on June 18 for children of the Methodist church. It will run through June 29 under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Shaw who has directed the school in past summers.

Teachers and workers for the school have been taking study courses in preparation for their work in "The Bible"—theme for this year's school. Children from four to 14 are welcome. There will be rest and study periods, recreation and time off for light refreshments.

Angel Choirs. Small members of the Lawrenceville Presbyterian choir will present a program to show the work they have been doing in junior choirs over the past months. At special Vesper service from 7: to 7:45 p.m. this Sunday, they will sing a group of songs under the leadership of Mrs. Harry Pratt, their director. Charles Peterson, one of the choir-boys, will give the Scripture reading, and Ann Updike a choir-girl, will give the prayer. Some 59 boys and girls belong to these two junior choirs, and there is in addition a Cherub choir composed of first and second graders. They gave their program on Mother's Day.

Hats for Hadassah. For its last spring meeting of the year, Hadassah will hold a musical revue called "Hadassah Millinery Modes." The revue will be held following the electing of officers at a meeting this Thursday at 8:30 p.m. Mrs. Thomas Stix, president, will be hostess.

Participants in the musical part of the program will be Mrs. Daniel Polin, Mrs. Martin Kruskal, Mrs. Jay Berger, Mrs. Joseph Kruskal, Mrs. Daniel Bershader and Mrs. Irving Glassman.

A millinery fashion show will feature hats supplied by Jermaine, French milliner, whose shop is at 217 Nassau Street. Four members of Hadassah will model these creations: Mrs. Mortimer Feidman, Mrs. Edward Friedman, Mrs. Murray Medvin and Mrs. Nathan Kasrel. Mrs. Robert Sauver will serve as narrator.

REGULAR SERVICES

Princeton Methodist. Church school will begin at 9:45 a.m. For the 11 a.m. worship service, the Rev. Charles W. Marker has prepared a sermon on "East of Eden".

Calvary Baptist. "Four Men Under One Hat" is the sermon for this Sunday. The Rev. James H. Middleton will preach at 11 a.m. Sunday School will meet at 9:45 a.m., and there will be a midweek service next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the parsonage.

First Baptist. The Rev. Dr. William T. Parker will preach this Sunday at 11 a.m. on "Our High Calling". Holy Communion will be served at 8 p.m. Next Wednesday the Bible class will meet at 8 p.m. and the mid-week service at 8:30 p.m.

Baptist at Penns Neck. This Sunday at the 11 a.m. service the Ordinance of Believer's Baptism will be administered and four adults will bear witness to their faith in the baptismal waters. The Rev. S. Robert Weaver will speak on the ordinance as set forth in the New Testament. Bible school will meet at 9:45 a.m. and the Tuesday Fellowship Hour at 7:30 p.m.

First Presbyterian. Dr. John R. Bodo will preach at 9:30 and 11 a.m. There will be Holy Communion at both services, and new members will be received into the church at the 11 a.m. service.

Second Presbyterian. Beginning this Sunday, there will be two identical services each Sunday, one at 9:45 a.m. and one at 11.

Onward, Christian Soldiers!

You'll recall a gentlemen named Valiant in John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress", and the hardships he overcame in the name of his faith.

Consider now the three small Gormans, Jeanie, 4; Frannie, 7; and Martha, 9, all of whom received perfect-attendance awards at last Sunday's Trinity commencement. The girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Gorman, Jr., 24 Southern Way.

During the course of the year, Frannie broke her arm twice. She caught mumps and lengulshed in quarantine. Her tonsils flared up and she went to the hospital to have them out—all without missing a Sunday. The previous year, she broke her collarbone, but not her perfect record for '54-'55.

Now Martha got by pretty well this year, but last year she broke HER collarbone about the time Frannie did. Martha is the family veteran: four years of Sunday School without missing a week.

Jeanie? She's only in kindergarten. Her trials have yet to begin.

Holy Communion will be celebrated at both services this Sunday and the Rev. Dr. William L. Tucker will preach.

The Rev. Benjamin J. Anderson will be the guest speaker when the Senior High Westminster Fellowship meets at 7 p.m.

Witherspoon Presbyterian. The Rev. Benjamin J. Anderson will preach at the 11 a.m. service of Holy Communion this Sunday. His meditation will be "Christ Enough". Following the service at 12:30 there will be a family church dinner.

Union Presbyterian. The Rev. Dr. William L. Tucker will speak at this Sunday's union service to be held at 8 p.m. in the Witherspoon church.

Kingston Presbyterian. Richard Stults as a gift from Kingston Congregation. Mr. Stults, who has been a member of the church since childhood, will be ordained to the ministry on June 7. Following his ordination he will be installed as pastor of the Presbyterian Church, North Baltimore, Ohio.

Youth groups of the church will meet this Sunday at 7 p.m.

Lawrenceville Presbyterian. "Untangle Your Life" is the sermon for this Sunday. The Rev. M. Allen Kimble will preach at 11 a.m. There will be Sunday School at 9:30 a.m. and adult Bible class at the same hour under the leadership of Dr. D. Campbell Wycoff. Members of the Westminster Fellowship will gather at 7 p.m. to hear a guest speaker.

Vacation Bible class will begin on June 20 at 9 a.m. following a registration from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. on June 19. Mrs. Earl Cranston will direct the school, which will run five days a week from 9 a.m. until noon through July 6.

St. Paul's Roman Catholic. Masses will be offered hourly on Sunday from 6 a.m. to 11 a.m. in the auditorium of St. Paul's school.

Unitarian. A family service will be held this Sunday at 11 a.m. followed by a church picnic at the home of Lyman Spitzer, 16 Prospect Avenue. There will be no church school until fall.

University Chapel. Dean Ernest Gordon will occupy the pulpit at the 11 a.m. service this Sunday.

Christian Science. "God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon for this week. It will be read at 11 a.m. and 8:15 p.m. Sunday School will meet at 11 a.m. and there will be a Wednesday evening testimonial meeting at 8:15 p.m.

Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. This Sunday at 11 a.m. the Rev. Yancey Lee Sims will preach from the theme, "What Would Jesus Do?" Holy Communion will be celebrated at this service. Sunday School will meet at 9:45 a.m. There will be an evening meditation and Holy Communion at 8 p.m.

Next Wednesday at 8 p.m., the combined groups of the church will lead the weekly hour of prayer.

Church of Christ. There will be an hour of prayer and Bible study this Sunday from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. in the Jewish Center, Olden Avenue.

Society of Friends. Meeting for worship will gather at 11 a.m. at the meeting house on Quaker Road. The monthly business meeting will follow. Upper First Day School will meet at 10 a.m. and the lower school at 11 a.m. for the final First Day school classes of the spring term.

Rocky Hill Reformed. There will be a service this Sunday at 11 a.m.

Trinity at Rocky Hill. This Sunday there will be a service of Holy Communion at 11 a.m.

Trinity Episcopal. Holy Communion will be celebrated this Sunday at 8 a.m. and again at 11 a.m. when the sermon will be delivered by the Rev. John V. Butler. There will be family Eucharist at 9:30 a.m. Daily evening prayer will start at 5:15 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Lutheran of the Messiah. The Rev. Richard Luecke will preach at 8:30 and 11 a.m. this Sunday. Children of the Sunday school will gather at 9:45.

Princeton Jewish Center. Regular formal late Friday services have been suspended for the summer, but there will be evening meditation each Friday at 6 p.m. with Rabbi Joseph H. Gelberman.

Take a HOLIDAY from heating cares!

with the efficient carefree NEW BURNHAM HOLIDAY GAS BOILER

Have the new HOLIDAY installed in your home and forget heating worries completely. It's entirely automatic. You set the thermostat and forget it . . . because gas is the cleanest, most trouble-free of fuels and HOLIDAY the most trouble-free of gas boilers! Its cast-iron construction lasts a lifetime. HOLIDAY can give you oceans of low cost year 'round domestic hot water, too, from big all-copper coils submerged in the boiler at the hottest point. What's more, HOLIDAY'S extra-efficient design squeezes the maximum of heat from every dollar's-worth of gas. It requires less fuel and is easy to install in both new or modernization jobs. Here's the ideal answer to your heating needs! HOLIDAY is fully approved by the American Gas Association and the Institute of Boiler and Radiator Manufacturers. We can install it in your home immediately . . . call us now for a free estimate . . . without obligation of course.

CALL YOUR PLUMBER TO FURNISH AND INSTALL IT!

Your plumber is an expert. He will help you pick the correct size for present and FUTURE needs. He will give a SAFE installation. Many cases of fires, explosions and gas leakage are due to failure to use a plumber.

VISIT OUR SHOWROOM . . .

And while you're here, ask us about Dishwashers, Garbage Disposals, Summer Air Conditioners and space-saving Radiant Baseboard Radiators. COME IN THURSDAY EVENING WITH YOUR WHOLE FAMILY.
